

COMPULSORY TASK 1

- a. The Natural Language Processing (NLP) application responsible for the allocation of emails to the appropriate folders is the Text Classification application.
- b. The Text Classification application can also be used in deciding the type of grade to be awarded to an essay question.
- c. The Question Answering application is an example of a Natural Language application that can be used in providing assistive technology to provide a diagnosis by doctors.